

Alec Soth's Archived Blog

May 4, 2007

Friday Poem / Prayer

Filed under: poetry — alecsothblog @ 7:37 am

Pamela Anderson week on the blog is over and I need a break. I'm going to be on the road and off the computer for a couple of weeks. While I'm gone, I leave you with this prayer:

2 Comments

1. very, err, chuck palaniuk. isn't this a quotation from The Survivor or smth?

Comment by Vladimir Dudchenko — May 8, 2007 @ 3:32 am

2. A prayer to St Veronica might be in order as well – she is after all, the patron st of photography. Pope Benedict has recently culled her from the Catholic easter celebrations, so she needs our support, though she remains on the website....see if you can spot the link to photography.....

(from <http://www.catholic.org>)

“St Veronica: The woman of Jerusalem who wiped the face of Christ with a veil while he was on the way to Calvary. According to tradition, the cloth was imprinted with the image of Christ’s face. Unfortunately, there is no historical evidence or scriptural reference to this event”

Robert

Comment by Robert Phillips — May 8, 2007 @ 6:53 pm