1. I wish I could come to Mpls. for the two that are opening. Boohoo.

2. Boohoo? New Yorkers should never complain about missing shows. How do you think we feel here?

If we can muster up $1000 to get to New York, first we have to test our luck on the bridges and then test our luck on Northwest.

3. Surely you're aware that New Yorkers complain about everything!

(It's distinctly possible that I miss more shows in NY than you do. This shouldn't surprise you.)

4. I would have to agree with Jen that New Yorkers do complain about everything and I also miss way too many good shows in NY.

5. I wish Jen Beckman would/could attend have attended too. As a 2006/2007 McKnight fellow exhibiting this year at MCP, I'm both happy Jen has an interest in seeing the work and sad she can't.

It was nice to see Alec, Paul Shambroon, Kathryn Tuscan there to support the new fellows.

6. Jen, Sorry for spelling your name, (Bekman) wrong. I knew how to spell it, I was thinking and typing way to fast. The thought that you would like to attend a Minneapolis opening just came over me.

Thanks again to Alec, Paul Shambroon and Kathryn Tuscan for their support of the new fellows by their attending Saturday's opening.
