I recently challenged readers to critique 21 artists. Grant Ernhart won the prize, but I have no choice but to give Rachel Hawthorn a runner-up prize for completeing an entire website devoted to this challenge! Hats of to Rachel and Grant for their great work.

1. Thank you both for your input and effort. Its a bonus to an already super productive day at the Magnum review. Both reviewers were thoughtful and had insight worthwhile to me.

Alec, thanks for the contest. Definitely a value added component to the review!

2. I finally had a chance to read through Grant's reviews as well, and I found it interesting to see we had some similar ideas about some work, and some completely different ideas about others.

Sean, I'm glad you got something additional out of the reviews. I also benefited from the experience, so that you for sharing your work.
