1. The ads you shot are going to be a nice surprise for people when they have the magazine itself in hand.

2. Woah, I bet you to your own punch (click). Oh and nice choice of accompanying image, by the way.

3. this is such a wonderful piece of work Alec. your style is so touching and delicate. most photographers, i believe, would make this feel awkward or highfalutin. very nice work – i'm anxious to see it in person.

be well.

4. Thanks Jenny-Lynn. I think the ads are essential to the project. But I felt funny about posting them on the web. I'm not sure they would make sense. Plus, the advertisers need to shell out some more cash before I start promoting their products all over my site.

5. I actually only knew Gilden's version of fashion magazine, first from magnuminmotion.com, then from a bookstore, and didn't know it was an ongoing project. This concept is absolutely delicious and I love how you handled it.

Reminds me of Wim Wenders "Paris, Texas", in a way.

8. Any word on whether or not this will be available at Dashwood Books in NYC?

Comment by Sam Logan — July 9, 2007 @ 10:11 pm

9. Yes, Dashwood should have it in August or so.
